

I would like to comment on the Sinclair Communications Corp. plans to air a political commentary on all of its stations throughout this country two weeks before the Presidential elections. I feel this is an abuse of that company's power and points out the need for strong action by your agency. If the exposure of a female breast can get the swift attention of the FCC then the abuse by Sinclair should also get the same type of punitive action.